On 13 January 2006 the “NATO Policy for Systems Life Cycle Management” (SLCM) document tabled by the then NATO Secretary General Jaap de Hoop Scheffer was accepted, which marked the beginning of the NATO-wide implementation of the respective rules and measures by the nations.

In January 2016 the annual NATO LCM Conference will consider the lessons learned and achievements made as a basis for new and future-oriented perspectives which will be introduced in respective presentations.

The conference will provide a platform for the presentation of innovative approaches and concepts in support of effective materiel management. In addition to specialist presentations and papers the conference will provide ample opportunity for the exchange of information between and among experts, programme managers and decision makers from the nations’ armed forces, defence administration and industry.

The event will be combined with a small, dedicated exhibition, where interested parties are invited to showcase their respective capabilities.

Like in previous years, speakers, delegates and exhibitors will take advantage of the luxurious ambience of the Golden Tulip Brussels Airport Hotel, which has already provided proof of its value and capabilities as the venue of similar such events in the past few years.
